Positive Moments Define Each Day At Woodland!

Mrs. Mac was working with 7th Grade students on Zentangle Art in order to develop a relaxing lesson and relieve some stress, when the opportunity for a great group selfie was seized... Student laughter and positive environments thrive at Woodland... Just one of the many attributes which make Woodland so special.

First Grade has worked to develop little mailboxes which house special messages. Creating this positive class experience is a win! However, seeing a thoughtful 4th Grade student, Sami, step up and write each child a kind note, while helping to complete a mailbox, really demonstrates the kind of qualities Woodland works to develop, and the outstanding students who are part of our community.

Basketball Stood Out This Week!

Not only have the games been very exciting to watch, there has been a lot to cheer for, and incredible moments to celebrate. Several student athletes shone with their best performances, making the first baskets they have in a match, remaining poised to make their free throws, hustling across the court, and making things happen.

Little victories such as these often outway the final score. Personal successes last a lifetime, and critically, become experiences which shape self-image, contribute to confidence and self-worth, and open young adults up to be risk takers (the healthy, level headed kind). Indeed putting themselves out on the court to try and work as hard as they can, outside of their comfort zone, is a risk... and the small successes they earn carry with them as they continue on in their educational careers, and are formed into adults. Seeing such a positive and supportive community surrounding our Woodland Panthers is fulfilling. Seeing the strides they have made since just the start of this season, inspiring.

Thank you for coming out and cheering on our Panthers. Thank you for supporting their growth as student athletes... and thank you for being part of the Woodland Community!
